Work and Deadlines

- How will the group come to agreement on a topic (what research are members expected to do before you meet / go online to discuss the topic)?
 - We try to focus all ideas into one without excluding any perspectives, mostly comes down to how and where each person skills can be utilised.
- When will you make a final decision on a topic?
 - Within 30 minutes, no fluffin around
- Who will write the first draft of and who will first edit each component? Deadlines.
 - Shared equally, mostly discussed verbally on each Monday, then discord throughout the week if anything changes
- Who will collate the whole submission and then circulate it for the group to comment on?
 - Different each time, has no effect on our dynamic as everything is shared
- Who will prepare the final submission?
 - Altogether, submitted and marked individually so not applicable

Penalties

- What happens if members don't meet agreed-to deadlines?
 - We discuss why and delegate to others however possible
- What happens if members do not contribute / come to meetings?
 - Inform a lecturer if continues but otherwise reach out to them each day/week until we have an answer.

The agreement should be finalised within the first week. It must be signed and dated by the group members. Each member should get a copy, a copy should also be sent to your lecturers
